

KOCH THEATER at LINCOLN CENTER

Massive, elegant, awesome... these are feeble attempts at words that cannot really describe the majesty of the Koch (pr. like Coke) Theater in Lincoln Center. It is such an immense honor that our students were able to perform there. All dancers that make it to NY are invited to perform in the "Grand Defile" and practice for a week (in between competitions, masters classes, rehearsals, etc.). Even if a dancer does not make it to the Final Round the way that Ben did in 2017, they all have an opportunity to dance on the impressive stage of the Koch Theater at the black-tie Gala. The Grand Defile in 2018 had 350 dancers and was visually stunning.
